

The book cover is made of dark brown leather with a rich, aged patina. It is framed by an elaborate, multi-layered gold-tooled border. The innermost border consists of a repeating pattern of stylized, symmetrical foliate motifs. The outermost border is a more complex, wider band featuring larger, more intricate designs, including what appear to be stylized floral or shell-like elements. The leather surface shows signs of wear, including some staining and a small dark mark near the top center.

A Little Riak Book

Eric B. Redmond